May 1, 2015, Wilmington, DE – The Jewish Federation of Delaware has received three awards recognizing creativity and marketing excellence from the 2015 Communicator Awards (CommunicatorAwards.com), the leading international awards program recognizing big ideas in marketing and communications. Founded two decades ago, The Communicator Awards receives over 6,000 entries from companies and agencies of all sizes, making it one of the largest awards of its kind in the world.

Federation received a Gold Award of Excellence in the Special Event Category for its “Men’s Nite Out” Program and Silver Awards of Distinction in the Annual Reports Category for its 2013-2014 Report to the Community and in the Writing Category for its 2015 Development Plan.

“As a nonprofit organization with limited resources, it is especially meaningful to be recognized for our work among a highly competitive playing field. These latest accolades recognize the dedication of our staff and lay leadership as well as our commitment to excellence,” stated Seth J. Katzen, Chief Executive Officer of the Jewish Federation of Delaware. “Federation is honored to be an award recipient in this annual competition in each of the past five years.”
